Abstrak

By PNPM Mandiri Program, such a poverty alleviation program, the economic activity of Meteseh residents is triggered. A revolving fund is used for house improvement. The increase of house is used for economic activity. However, the house is mostly funded by their selves, included as heritage. It shows that the Meteseh resident is able to help their selves. On the other hand, it shows that PNPM Mandiri Program dose not give significant contribution in relation to housing issues.
