ABSTRACT

The phenomenon of NIMBY (Not In My Back Yard) always appears in the problems to determine solid waste facilities location. People have an opinion that waste management location will causes some effects of environment. The phenomenon always comes although the plan of waste management program which proposed is able to minimize or omitting the parts of possible negative effects. According to this phenomenon therefore the paradigm of determination of solid waste facilities location is not only consider about the technical aspects but it is better to engage people as the user or receiver of this facilities advantage. According to the concept of TPS location in Serang Municipality which still pursuant to requirement of the public proposed, hence it needs to conduct a study of determination of TPS location which is most suitable to imply in Serang both considered to the technique aspects and people opinion.
