NOTE

In this international seminar on Language Maintenance and Shift 7 (LAMAS 7 for short), we try to do the new paradigm, that is publishing the proceeding after the seminar was held. The positive aspect of the paradigm is that the presenters of the seminar have opportunity to revise their paper based on the responses of the audience. However, it takes longer time to process the proceeding until it is ready to distribute. Therefore, we apologize for being late.

In this opportunity, we would like to extent our deepest gratitude to Balai Bahasa Jawa Tengah for continuously cooperation in conducting the seminar. Thanks also go to the Dean of the Faculty of Humanities, the Head and the Secretary of the Master Program in Linguistics Diponegoro University, without whom the seminar would not have been possible. We would also express our special thanks to committee for putting together the seminar that gave rise to this compilation of papers.

We would like to thank Mrs. Shu-Chuan Chen, Ph.D. from Asia University Taiwan, Dr. Tupas Topsie Ruanni, from National Institute of Education Singapore, Drs, Pardi M.Hum. from Balai Bahasa Jawa Tengah; Prof. Ketut Artawa, Ph.D. from Udayana University, and Dr. Suharno, M.Ed. from Diponegoro University, as invited speakers in plenary sessions, and to all of the participants of the seminar.

Semarang, September, 25th 2017

Abstract

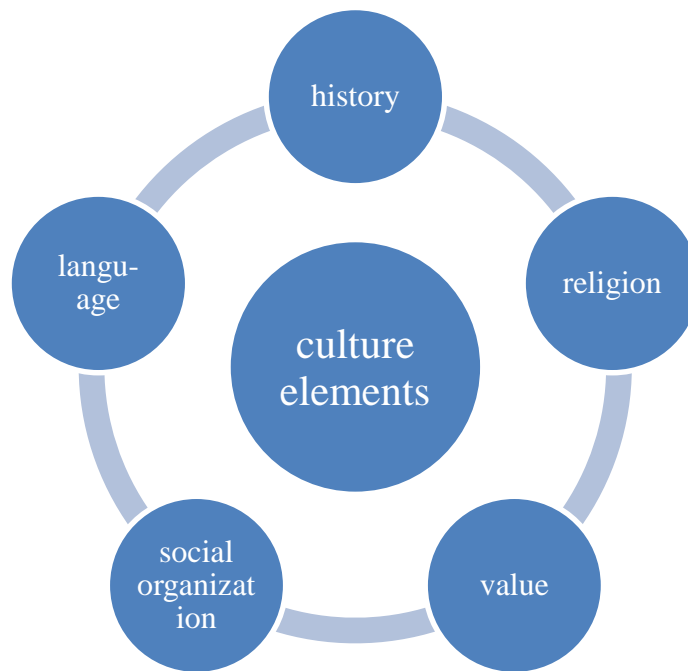

The Indonesian foreign policy of free-active makes an enormous impact in many respects. One of the impacts is a mixed-married couple of an Indonesian citizen and a citizen from various countries. This research is about the interculturality of mixed-married couple, the couple is a Sundanese male and a foreign female from other country. The marriage among nations has led to a cultural diffusion little by little. Interculturality in mixed-marriage is important to be observed. The objectives of the research are to describe the five elements of the culture that affect the couple culture, and to describe the impact of each other culture to his or her spouse. The method used in this research is qualitative-descriptive method with questionnaire. The data are taken from the mixed-marriage couple who lives in Bandung. The theories are taken from Samovar (2012) and Sumardjo (2012). The results of this research is interculturality of both cultures, Sundanese culture and foreign cultures, gives the impact of understanding to the spouse's behavior. The dominant culture in this mixed-marriage is the culture of the location where they live now.

Key words: Interculturality, mixed-married, French female, Sundane male, culture

INTRODUCTION

In globalization era, the marriage of the man and woman from different culture is very common. The interaction between people from one country and the people from other country is high. The new technology of communication makes every country in the world is easily reached. Indonesia has a good relationship with many countries in the world. Moreover, the Indonesian foreign policy of free-active makes an enormous impact in many respect, one of the impacts is a mixed-married between an Indonesian and a spouse from different country. This mixed-marriage makes interculturality. A mixed-marriage is a marriage between people of different race, ethnic, or religious groups (Samovar)

Interculturality is seen as a cohesion, reciprocal penetration, a resetting of the balance carried out harmoniously on the basis of culturally different elements and behavior (www.lmg.ulg.ac.be). This interculturality can be observed through the important-elements of the culture that affect the couple culture. The five elements of the culture are history, religion, value, social organization, and language. (Samovar)

The objectives of this research are to describe the five elements of the culture that affect the spouse's culture and to describe the impact of each other culture to the spouse's culture. The method used in this research is qualitative-descriptive method with questionnaire. The data are taken from the mixed-marriage couple who live in Bandung. This research uses Samovar theory (2012) and Sumardjo (2012). Mixed-marriage is a marriage between two people who are not of the same race or religion (Samovar). This research observes the mixed marriage between a Sundanese man and a French woman. The man is from Indonesia, he is the man from West Java Province, a Sundanese. The Sundanese lives in the Priangan area of West Java Province. The Sundanese male lives in Bandung, the capital city of West Java Province. He was brought up among the Sundanese culture. He speaks Sundanese language, his parents taught him the Sundanese etiquette and his religion is Islam. His last education is as a university student in Bandung

The female comes from one advanced country in West Europe. The woman is brought up in the atmosphere of French culture. The French woman went to Bandung for her research, she was interested in observing the Sundanese puppet rods, it is called 'Wayang Golek'. Wayang Golek is made from wood, it can move expressively, because it relates to a rod below the puppet. The Puppeteer (dalang) operates the puppet from the rod. During the performance of the puppet, the traditional instrument that as the back-sound music of the Wayang-Golek called 'gamelan'. The French woman met her husband during her stay in Bandung when he did the research for her doctoral degree. Her husband is one of the men who played the 'gamelan', a Sundanese traditional musical instrument.

DISCUSSION

The Sundanese is the tribe who lives in West Java Province Indonesia. West Java Province is about 4.417.000 ha or 35 % of the Java Island area. The West Java Province is next the area of DKI Jakarta, the capital city of Indonesia. The Sundanese language is the local language which is the second largest language spoken in Indonesia. In fact, the Sundanese culture production is known by the international people, such as Batik and Angklung.

The Sundanese believes that a marriage is very important event in one's life. Marriage is a sacred event. The Sundanese male may choose his own bride. In Sundanese culture when a Sundanese gets married, it means the families of the bride and the bride-groom also become one big family. In Sundanese family, the head of the family is the father, it is due to the Islamic tenet. A Father is somebody who earns the living, conversely a mother is someone who takes care of the children. The Sundanese regards a mother as a highly respectful person in the nuclear-family, the respectful mother is called "Indung" means mother in Sundanese. In the gender point of view, Sundanese woman is known for her persistent, mentally powerful, and smart. The second person to be respected in the family is a father, a father is the head of the family, unfortunately, a father does not have any respectful name, such as 'indung' in Sundanese culture. A father is called 'Bapa' or 'Apa' in Sundanese.

The couple (the Sundanese man and the French woman) lives in Bandung. The Sundanese environment is deeply affected both of them. Mr. S (the Sundanese man) comes from the tribe where the relationship between the relatives are closed to each other. Mr S lives in the village where most of the inhabitants are his relatives. Mrs. F (the French woman) comes from a developed country, people there are individualism.

The Five Important Elements of Culture

History

The couple is a Sundanese man and a French woman. Historically, the name Sunda derives from the word SU which means Goddess. Sunda also means light, cleanness, bright, and white (southofvoice.blogspot.co). The Sundanese are Austronesian origins.

On the other hand, France is a secular country. The French are having great pride of their nation and government and are typically offended by any negative comments about their country. French women are playing a greater role in family life and business. (www.livescience.com). In mixed-marriage, Mrs. F can immerse to the Sundanee culture. Mrs. F considers Mr. S as the head of the family, because in the Sundanese culture the man is the head of the family. The man who earn the money and the man who decides for the family matter. The Sundanese culture is dominant here, however, in French culture the husband and wife are equal.

Religion

Almost all Sundanese are Muslim, only a few are not Muslim. Many Muslims pray five times a day. The Sundanese travel to Mecca if they can afford it. They fast during the holy month of Ramadan. In France, it is about 88% of the French is catholic. French do not believe 'a marriage' is an important event in one's life.

In mixed-marriage, Mrs F and Mr. S got married. They are obedient to their religious tenet. They have one son. Mrs F takes care of her son very well. Mr S religion is a dominant religion in their small family.

Value

The Sundanese thinks highly of the social harmony. Smile is the important thing for the Sundanese. They smile when they meet people, not only 'smile' to their acquaintances but also to some people that are not their friends. The Sundanese avoid direct confrontation. Therefore, indirectness will mostly become the norm for them. They try hard to avoid uncomfortable situation, bad news or direct rejection. On the other hand, the French are private people, they are individualism. The French are polite, but only to their family and their acquaintances and not to the stranger. In mixed-marriage, Mrs. F respects to her husband, Mr. S. She acts like a Sundanese woman, takes care for her husband for meals and clothing and so on. She loves her son and takes care of him well.

Social Organization

Like most Indonesians, Sundanese are family and community oriented. The Sundanese have very tight relations either with the member of the relatives or the member of the community around his or her place. On the contrary, the French thinks the family is tightly related to the country. Each member of the family has certain duties and responsibilities. Essentially, etiquette plays a strong part in French culture. In mixed-marriage, Mrs. S is just like a Sundanese woman is tied closely to family, either to her own family or her husband's big family. Mrs. F is a friendly woman and gives all her smile to her acquaintances.

Language

Most Sundanese are bilingual. They speak both languages, their native language and their official language, the Indonesian language. Sundanese language usually is spoken among family members and friends, while in the public place, the Indonesian language is used to communicate. Both languages are part of the Austronesian language. French is the national language of France. In the mixed-marriage, Mrs F speaks Sundanese and Indonesian well. She can speak both languages to her acquaintances, friends, neighbors, husband's relative in those two languages. However, she speaks French to her son. The conversation between mother and son is French but her son speaks Sundanese to his father, Mr. S. Mr.S can speak French a little.

CONCLUSION

Interculturally is a resetting of the balance carried out harmoniously on the basis of culturally different elements and behavior. Interculturality in mixed-marriage should be carried out, therefore the harmony between the two cultures will be occurred. The Sundanese man is the head of the family. The French woman takes care both of her husband and their son. The French woman can speak Sundanese well, she acts just like Sundanese woman does. She can get along very well with her husband's big family and the neighbours. She appreciates her husband well. Mr. S speaks French a little, he has visited his wife family in Paris, but it is difficult for him to learn and immerse to his wife's culture.
