To my beloved family and friends

FOREWORD

First of all, I must thank Allah SWT for his countless blessings on helping me to finish this thesis. Without His grace and mercy I might not be able to go through all this. I certainly had some difficulties in finishing this research whether the issue in my research itself or other issues I faced during the period I conducted this research. Many people have helped me during this difficult days. I would like to deliver my deepest gratitude to everyone who has always been there to support me emotionally, mentally, and physically. Their supports means the world to me.

To my supervisor Bapak Drs. Tri Cahyo Utomo, MA., I would like to personally thank you for your trust in my ability to write this thesis in English. Even I did not believe in myself at first, but with your constant support and encouragement I finally able to finish this thesis. You have showed me that language is not a barrier in gaining knowledge. You certainly have helped me to become the better version of myself, to push myself harder, you always encouraged me to aim higher and work hard to pursue my dreams. With your guidance and kindness during four years of my study, I am forever grateful for the knowledge and advices you have given.

To my academic advisor Mas Andi Akhmad Basith Dir, S.I.P, MA., MEI., thank you for your advice not only on academic matters, but also religion, manners, love, and most importantly advice about life in general. I learn so much from your experiences. Thank you for your supports during my study in this faculty. Thank you for made working with new people fun and pleasing. I very much enjoyed working and sharing with you. Those work experiences are definitely unforgettable.

To the beloved Department of International Relations lecturers, I would like to apologize for the difficulties I caused as a student. I also want to deliver my gratitude for helping me in understanding world problems and for the knowledge they share so far. To Mba Sharry, thank you for your advice in conducting this research. To Mas Rosyid, thank you for all the insights on academic writing and life tips you have given to me and my friends during evening coffee in Vietnam. To Bu Reni, Bu Hermi, Mas Marten, Mas Satya, Mba Nadia, Mba Ika, and Mas Fendy, I thank each and every one of these amazing teachers for their kindness and support to improve my skills in academic manners. These great people have helped make my college life lively and not boring. Thank you for the amazing experiences.

To my whole family, words seem inadequate to express how grateful I am to have you all in my life. I could not thank you enough for all of your love and endless supports for me. Thank you for all of your prayers for my success which I will forever remember. To my beloved mother, I may not be able to return everything you have given to me. Your love, your prayers, your endless supports have helped me to be where I am right now. Hardships I faced seem so little with your encouragements. Thank you for being the greatest Mom in the whole universe. I couldn't ask for a better support system. To my sis, thank you for the advice and supports for everything I could not mention. To my other family members, thank you for being my inspiration to be a better person.

To all my dearest friends, thank you for always being there during the darkest and the brightest time of my life. Your emotional, mental, and physical supports are incomparable. Thank you for accepting who I am and thank you for helping me to be better in every aspect. Thank you for your time to accompany me in numerous lonely nights. I am forever grateful for all of your understanding and love so far.

To each and every one I could not mention, thank you for the countless supports that have been given to me in completing this thesis. May all your kindness be rewarded with the greatest gift only God can deliver.

And finally to the people who are willing to read this research, I would like to personally thank you for your time to read my thesis. I hope you will gain pleasure and satisfaction in reading my paper. I wish my research will be beneficial for everyone in many aspects.
